

THE MARSHALL AID COMMEMORATION COMMISSION GUIDE TO INFORMATION.

The Marshall Aid Commemoration Commission (MACC) is the Non Departmental Public Body (NDPB) responsible for the administration of the Marshall Scholarships. The Scholarships were founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953 and commemorate the humane ideals of the European Recovery Programme (Marshall Plan). They are funded by the Foreign & Commonwealth Office and administered by the Marshall Aid Commemoration Commission in the UK (for which the Association of Commonwealth Universities provides the Secretariat). The mission of the MACC is to strengthen US-UK relations and to promote British influence in the United States by providing Marshall Scholarships to US Citizens of high academic achievement, who have the ability to be potential leaders, opinion formers and decision makers in the United States and, by doing so, to express the gratitude of the British people for the Marshall Plan.

THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000

The Freedom of Information Act, passed by Parliament in November 2000, requires government departments and other publicly funded organisations to make freely available to the public a range of information about that organisation, including information that might previously have been considered confidential. People of any nationality, resident in any country, may request this information. The Act is part of the 'Open Government' initiative and will come fully into force on 1st January 2005. In preparation for full implementation public bodies must adopt a "Publication Scheme".

The aim of a Publication Scheme is to make people aware they may request this sort of information and to inform them on the range of information available. The Scheme is a structured list, like a library catalogue. People should use the Scheme to choose documents that they wish to see. The information included in the Scheme will be available from 30 November 2002.

The Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC) is responsible for overseeing the implementation of the Act. The Information Commissioner has approved this Scheme.

HOW TO REQUEST INFORMATION

HOW WE MAKE DECISIONS

Information on the MACC's decision making process and records is available upon request as follows:

- Minutes

The MACC has executive responsibility, under the Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs, for the organisation and management of the Marshall Scholarships.

The MACC meets three times a year to discuss policy and review the administration of the scheme.

Under the Marshall Aid Commemoration Act 1953, Her Majesty's Ambassador to the United States of America will hold an advisory council annually to finalise the selection of the Marshall Scholars and reserves and to discuss policy pertaining to selection.

The minutes and supplementary reports are available upon request.

Some of the material in this class is derived from documents, which we consider to contain exempt information. Where this occurs the material will clearly show where information has been withheld and explain what exemption has been applied and why.

- Internal Communications

The MACC communicates with its members, Consulate-Generals in the US, British Embassy, Washington DC and Scholars through a series of internal circulars informing them of proposed changes to internal procedures, or the effects of outside influences, such as FCO policy issues. Some of the material in this class is derived from documents which we consider to contain exempt information. Where this occurs the material will clearly show where information has been withheld and explain what exemption has been applied and why.

We commit to undertake a continuous programme of assessing public interest in the content of our circulars and publish here accordingly.

HOW TO REQUEST FURTHER INFORMATION OUTSIDE THE SCHEME

If you are unable to find the information you are interested in through our Guide to Information, then you may wish to request the information from us. Requests should be made in writing to:

The Assistant Secretary & Head of Scholarship Administration
Marshall Aid Commemoration Commission
ACU
Woburn House
20-24 Tavistock Square
London
WC1H 9HF

Email: macc@acu.ac.uk

It will help if you can further define your request to help us identify the information you want. We will inform you if there is a fee applicable.

Under the Code of Practice and the FOI Act, we are obliged to respond to your request within 20 working days. If we are unable to do so, we will inform you of our reasons and work to reply substantively as soon as we can.

When we respond we will explain any exemptions used and what to do if you are unhappy with our reply.

The Code and FOI Act are both fully retrospective and people of any nationality and in any country can request information.

PERSONAL DATA

Personal Data is information relating to an identifiable living individual. You can ask to see personal data about yourself under the Data Protection Act 1998. Personal data about other people is exempt from disclosure under the FOI Act if its release would break any of the data protection principles set out in the Data Protection Act, or would be likely to cause substantial damage or distress to another person, or if the information would be exempt from disclosure under the Data Protection Act.

If you wish to make a request for access to your personal data you should write to the address below, being as specific as possible so that we know where to look:
